

Contract Training

Introduction to Irish Construction Contracts and Law

The course is intensive and interactive and focuses on outlining the core differences between English and Irish construction contracts and some of the variances in legal requirements and obligations, both statutory and regulatory.

Given the significant rise in building work in Ireland over the past 18 months, combined with other economic factors such as Brexit, Ireland is currently experiencing a surge in UK contractors pricing and carrying out works. There are some subtle but very important differences between the Irish and UK market and it is essential that contractors are up to speed.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THE COURSE?

The course is designed specifically to provide a broad appeal, and is targeted at any UK construction staff who are involved in doing work or tendering for projects in Ireland. In particular, it would be of interest to commercial managers, bid directors, project managers, contract administrators and in-house counsel.

HOW LONG IS THE COURSE?

The course will run from 9am - 12.30 (with a break for coffee at 11am).

Confederation of Construction Specialists members are eligible to receive preferential rates.
